MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2012 series

9706 ACCOUNTING

9706/43 Paper 4 (Problem Solving – Supplement), maximum raw mark 120

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2012 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

(c) Current ratio 198:93 2.13:1 1

Acid test 90:93 0.97:1 1

Return on capital employed = $\frac{(15)}{1805} \times 100 = (0.83)\%$ 1

Return on equity = $\frac{(15)}{1685} \times 100 = (0.89)\%$ 1

Max 4 marks for ratios

Hyung Ltd has a good liquidity position if inventories are included, however if inventories are excluded then the business does not have enough current assets to cover its current liabilities. Perhaps there has been too much spent on inventories and non-current assets. 2

The business made a loss and therefore has a small negative return both on capital employed and equity. 2 [8]

(d) Loan – annual interest has to be paid out of profits before appropriations to the shareholders. It may be secured on non current assets which cannot be sold for the length of the loan. 3

Rights issue - usually the market price of the shares drops after a rights issue and not all shareholders will chose to take up the rights so not all the desired money will be raised. 3 [6]
